LAS CRUCES AND MESILLA VALLEY
RAIN FALLS ON UPPER VALLEY

Only Strikes Certain Sections—Farmers to Meet.
Ranch Sold.

La Mesa, N. M., Aug. 12.—A freakish rain drenched the Anthony country while Chamberino and these parts received barely a drop.

Water came down the river as far as the San Miguel ditch head, but there was so little of it that even the early birds only saw it wade its way into the ditch, lazily creeping along some distance and then quitting before any irrigation was possible.

The Hugh Clary ranch at Chamberino has been sold for $25,000 and the new owner is to take it over at an early date.

Mr. and Mrs. Hannah, who purchased a 40 acre tract close to La Mesa, have arrived and will commence cultivation and building soon.

The post-office at Vado has changed hands. Saturday Mr. Keuhner resigned and Eli Newson was placed in charge. The following notice is posted calling next Saturday's meeting.

"West Mesilla Valley Farmers' association—Members as well as those interested in agriculture and horticulture are cordially invited to attend a general meeting of the West Mesilla Valley Farmers' association at the La Mesa school house, Saturday, 13th prox., at 3 p. m. sharp.

Immediately after the above meeting adjourns a mass meeting will convene and issues of day discussion, a number of speakers from Las Cruces and other points will address the meeting.

Women are especially invited to attend the meeting. Let's all pull together for the West Mesilla valley and the state of New Mexico. By order of arrangement committee. B. J. Viljoen, chairman."

The object of the mass meeting, it is stated, is to discuss matters appertaining to the framing of the new constitution, such as the recall, the initiative and referendum, prohibition, a railroad commission, etc. Among the speakers invited are Isidoro Armijo and H. B. Holt, from Cruces, and C. A. Thompson and others from the east side.

The La Mesa camping party which went to the Black range will return today bringing several bundles of bear and lion pelts as well as many fish stories.

Rev. H. P. Bond will preach in the

New York, N. Y., Aug. 11.—A photo-telegraph of John D. Rockefeller was transmitted by wire from Chicago to New York recently. The scheme is a new invention and in general consists of a screen with a number of square openings at regular intervals. A duplicate screen is provided for the distant point. The various shades of the picture are reported by telegraph with the duplicate square number in the screen. The operator at distant point shades the squares accordingly and makes a duplicate picture.

Four boys, not yet in their teens, are in the city jail, detained by the city detectives on technical charges, but by their own confession, the detectives say, members of a gang of thieves. After the scare of the confession into which they were forced had died away, the youngsters took the situation calmly, and laughed and called to each other from cell to cell. The boys are Robert Wood, Leon Collins, colored, and Harry Luther and Lester Burnett, white. The last named is the little fellow who has so industriously solicited the public to buy chewing gum of him. He is a cripple, and goes about on crutches.

Half a dozen thefts within the past week led the detective force of the city to make unusual efforts to locate the perpetrators. The arrest of the boys followed. The act which led to their discovery and detention was the alleged theft of $5 in money, and goods to the value of $70 from the residence of a negro woman on Second street.

What disposition will be made of the youngsters is not yet known.
